Got the orders from Stacy. Copies of the petitions themselves should be coming soon from a fellow named Earl Smith.

Ever since the order of substitution was entered, my phone has rung off the hook with folks calling from Albemarle County. Later today I will send you some of the names to see what background information you can give me on them. It always helps to know who has what agenda.

The first thing I need to do is call Dumler's attorney, Esther Phillips, and see if we are going to trial on Tuesday. I'll let you know.

I too had a good time this week. It was good to see you.

The above matter was filed yesterday. Judge Higgins has set the matter for 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 2, 2013, within the required 10 days, but also anticipates that there will likely be a need to continue due to my conflict. Also, she is out of town next week. An order appointing you or your assistant as special prosecutor should be entered this week and we will send the file along with a certified copy of the order. Finally, it is my understanding that the Judge will likely withhold a request that the signatures be verified until determining if there are other motions that may be made.

Thanks again for agreeing to take this. Please let me or Stacey, my paralegal, know if you need anything.

I enjoyed seeing you yesterday.

Thanks again for taking this on. It is a bear - didn't realize people would be so worked up. Glass houses and all. And we are weird as owl shit up here.....

Polling places and Districts are listed on the Albemarle County Registrar's web page. To find a particular person's District you can go to the state board of election site - "where do I vote" - and put in the address, that gets you the polling place but not the district. You have to go back to the Registrar's site for the District. He was prepared to validate the names, etc but was told he did not have to do that yet. They will be a little shorthanded next week b/c spring break.

The Registrar is Jake Washburne. 434-972-4173, rwashburne@albemarle.org. He is a straight shooter.

The Co Exec is Tom Foley and the Co Atty is Larry Davis - don't know if you will hear from them but I wouldn't be surprised. I can tell you what I think about them on the phone or in person. The short version is that they are not bright but pretend to be and think they are and, as I expect most people in their position do, interpret the law and report the facts in a manner that is consistent with their desired results. Validate, validate, validate.

I would offer to take you to lunch Tuesday to soften the blow a bit but I will be in W'burg at Great Wolf Lodge with 4 11 year old girls. They do serve alcohol there.....

I'll find some way to make this up to you.

Come now, Mr. Doucette! Surely you are not surprised..... Actually thought you would have figured that out yourself. Maybe it's a southern thing. You can't RUN us out of town, we'll leave when we're good and damn ready. Maybe I shoulda warned you. :) There was a bit of a scare on Monday after he gave the letter to Duane. I'll tell you about it sometime.

I saw your car parked outside your office as I was leaving around 5:30. I was going to stop in to say "hey" but your front door was locked. So I went back to Lynchburg.

I'll need to return on May 31st for the court's ruling. I don't know why the judge couldn't put us all out of our misery last night.
